A MESSAGE FROM DR. DAVID KESELMAN, CEO

HAPPY PASSOVER

It seems that (at least hoping) winter is behind us, and the weather is only getting better and better and we are seeing longer and brighter days. I hope you had an opportunity to join in the celebrations for Purim that were organized by the staff of Louis Brier. The festival of Purim commemorates the salvation of the Jewish people in ancient Persia from Haman's plot "to destroy, kill and annihilate all the Jews, young and old, infants and women, in a single day."

The Persian Empire of the 4th century BCE extended over 127 lands, and all the Jews were its subjects. When King Ahasuerus had his wife, Queen Vashti, executed for failing to follow his orders, he arranged a beauty pageant to find a new queen. A Jewish girl, Esther, found favor in his eyes and became the new queen, though she refused to divulge her nationality. It is because of her that Haman's plot failed and Jews throughout the Persian kingdom were saved.

On the heels of Purim is Passover, and there are a lot of activities and preparation taking place to ensure we are ready. At this time I also wanted to bring your attention to a few exciting events that have taken place here at the Louis Brier. The minister of Health Honourable Minister Adrian Dix, made a special announcement at the Louis Brier on Wednesday, March 13th concerning additional funding to support the additional hiring of Care Aids, to improve the quality of care delivered to our residents.

The other exciting initiative is a result of our collaboration with Vancouver Coastal Health in trying to improve the access of Jewish elders to available beds at the Louis Brier. The pilot has resulted in the creation of a swing bed (1 additional bed beyond the current bed capacity). The swing bed helps to expedite the movement of Jewish elders waiting on the transfer list. We will continue to monitor the effectiveness of this pilot and make necessary adjustments as required.

Thank you for your on-going support and commitment to help us deliver quality and safe care.

Thanks,
Dr. David Keselman, CEO

PASSOVER 2019 at the Louis Brier

This year, the Jewish holiday of Passover begins on Friday, April 19 (Erev) and ends on Saturday, April 27, 2019.

For those who celebrate Passover, we would like to invite you and your family to join your loved one for the 1st and 2nd Seders during the evenings of April 19th and April 20th, at the Louis Brier.

The Seders will take place at 6:45pm in the Homeside Lounge of the Louis Brier after the evening holiday Yontef meal. There is no charge to attend the Seders.

Residents may invite a guest to join them for the special holiday Yontef meals. These will be served both evenings PRIOR to the Seder.

Beginning April 1st, Guest meal tickets will be available to purchase at the Louis Brier Reception. Adult guest meal tickets are $18 and children under 13 are $9. There is no charge for residents.

We will also be offering the very popular mini-Seder program again this year. The Mini Seder program will be on Sunday, April 21st, at 2:30pm in the 2nd floor dining room. The mini-Seder program is tailored for Louis Brier residents who find the evening program too late in the day to attend.

Within the next few weeks we will be posting the Synagogue Service schedule as well as all holiday programming so that you can plan appropriately. We hope that you will be able to join us in celebrating Passover this year.

For more information please contact Melissa Moussa at Ext 4735 or

PASSOVER 101

Passover (Pesach) is an eight-day festival celebrating Jewish freedom from slavery and exile in Egypt in 1300 BCE, as told in the first 15 chapters of the biblical Book of Exodus.

Passover, or Pesach (pay-sahk) is one of the most significant observances on the Jewish calendar, and individuals of the Jewish faith worldwide celebrate with family at traditional Seders. The Seder (say'-dehr) is an ancient ceremony which retells the story of the birth of the Jewish Nation on the eve of their exodus from Egypt through rituals, the reading and re-telling of the story in the Haggadah, songs and symbolic foods. Seders are held in Jewish homes on each of the first two nights of Pesach. This year they will be held on April 19 & 20 at the Louis Brier and Weinberg. The Seder is a celebration not just of re-telling specific historical events, but the story of freedom itself. It is also a reminder of spring renewal, and the perpetual renewal of life. At the Seder, the story of Moses leading the Jewish people out of slavery in Egypt is read in the Haggadah, with much singing and discussion involving everyone at the table.

The first two and last two days of the holiday are holy days, observed with all the same rules as Shabbat.

About Matza: At the time of the Exodus, the Jews left Egypt with haste, and therefore had little time to allow yeast to rise in order to make bread. Instead, during the entire eight days, matza, a thin dry type of cracker made from only flour and water is eaten. All the 'chometz' (leavened bread products) will be stored separately and the kitchens will be using an entirely different (Kosher for Pesach) set of plates, pots, and pans and cooking items. During the entire festival, no chometz bread or bread products, crackers, cake, etc. are to be consumed in the communal areas of the home. The holiday takes a great deal of preparation and intensive cleaning!

During the Seders, a SEDER PLATE is on each table arranged with symbolic food:

A Roasted Shankbone – A reminder of the Paschal Lamb and of the strength of the Jewish people.

A Roasted Egg – A symbol of the Festival sacrifice offered up in the Jerusalem Temple.

Maror (Mah-r'or) – These bitter herbs (horseradish) are a reminder of the bitterness of the Egyptian slavery.

Haroset (Ha-ro'e'-set) – A mixture of apples, nuts, cinnamon, and wine, which represents the mortar the Israelite slaves used in Egypt.

Parsley (karpas, or green herbs) – is dipped into a dish of salt water before being eaten, which is symbolic of hope and renewal, the coming of spring and the perpetual renewal of life.

Four Cups of Wine – Drinking of wine symbolizing freedom and the four-fold promise of redemption in Exodus 6:6-7 "I will bring you... I will save you... I will redeem you... and I will take you."

Cup of Elijah – This is usually a tall goblet which is poured for Elijah the Prophet. It is filled during the Seder but is not drunk from.

Three Matzahs – In commemoration of the unleavened bread which the Jews took with them when they fled Egypt.

Pesach is traditionally an important family time. Often, several generations will gather to celebrate the Seder together. Leading up to and during Pesach, and especially on the two Seder nights may be very difficult time for some residents. In years past, the resident was likely the head of their family and sat at the head of their Seder table surrounded by children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Now they are here. Your understanding of the holiday will support residents and families as they navigate the changes to their holiday tradition. Thank you for taking the time to learn about this important holiday.

'MASKS, REVELATION & SELFHOOD' DANCE PERFORMANCE

We are thrilled to share with you the link to the 'Mask, Revelation, Selfhood' film, now completed. Here is the YouTube Link, and the film is also available on our Louis Brier website.

<https://youtu.be/YspYE6juiy0>

This film has been well received by our Jewish and other community partners. This film has also been accepted by various agencies and post-secondary education sites as an educational tool. Our intention is also to use it as an education tool "in-house" at Louis Brier. As a Recreation Department, we have many ideas about how to promote and effectively utilize the film, including of course showing it here at Louis Brier during Purim for years to come!

GOODBYE GINGER, HELLO KELLY!

Ginger bid a very fond farewell to Louis Brier on March 8 to begin her maternity leave. Ginger gives her sincere thanks and best wishes to residents, family and staff, all of whom demonstrated such incredible kindness, warmth and generosity throughout her pregnancy.

Ginger's replacement is Kelly Lopuch. Kelly is a Recreation Therapist with a Bachelors in Therapeutic Recreation. She has worked in a variety of Long Term Care settings, and is looking forward to getting to know the residents families and staff at Louis Brier and improving quality of life through leisure and recreation!

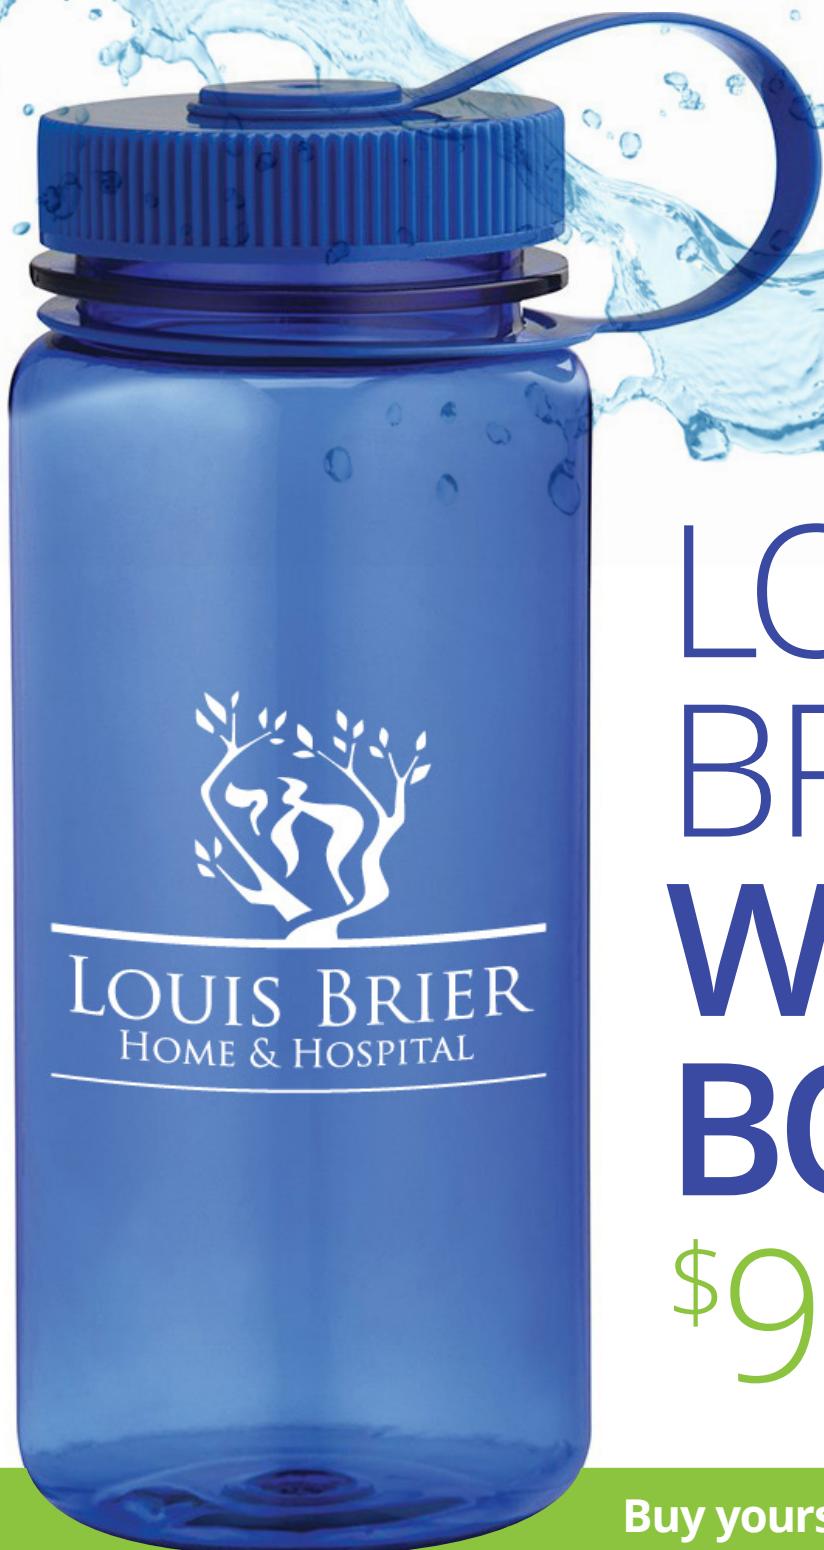

Kelly is from BC, enjoys the outdoors, and has recently started dragon boating in the community.

FAMILY COUNCIL – DEMENTIA CARE STRATEGY WORKSHOPS

To Families, Friends and Care Givers of Louis Brier Residents:
You are invited to participate in the Dementia Care Strategy Workshops.

Under the Vancouver Coastal Health, LBHH has a whole “Dementia C.A.R.E.” strategy, with the end goal of being able to improve the lives of residents, as well as those who care for them. We have been learning about this process in our meetings. While the staff is going through this education, it will be of great value to families to acquire the same sets of skills. This knowledge will not only enhance the way families communicate with their loved ones but it will also give family members the knowledge to effectively provide feedback to staff who do not follow the dementia care practices.

VCH recently won an award for leadership excellence in “Gentle Persuasive Approaches” lead by Jas Gill, Team Lead - Dementia C.A.R.E. Strategy, <http://www.vch.ca/about-us/news/vch-wins-award-for-leadership-excellence-in-gentle-persuasive-approaches>

We confirm the following dates/times:

Date: Tuesday April 16 and Tuesday April 23

(you must commit to both dates as one workshop builds upon, and is part of, the other)

Time: 5:30-7:30pm

Place: Weinberg classroom

PLEASE RSVP to lb.familycouncil@gmail.com. It is first come, first reserved. PLEASE remember that all family members and friends of residents are welcome to attend. Due to logistics, only the companions who do not care for any other resident but your loved one, would be able to attend based on your agreement/arrangements with your companion. We hope to have 20-25 in attendance and spots will be saved on a first to reply basis. Working to improve life of residents at LBHH and their families and friends,

On behalf of Family Council,
Charlotte Katzen and Lisa Dawson

FALL PREVENTION

Falls are the main reason older adults lose their independence and account for 85 percent of injuries leading to hospitalizations.

Here are some things you can do to reduce your risk of falling:

STAY ACTIVE

Always check with your doctor before starting a physical activity program. Physical activity reduces the risk of falls by improving strength, balance, coordination and flexibility. Look for an activity you enjoy like water workouts or Tai Chi. It could also be as simple as walking or gardening!

WEAR COMFORTABLE SHOES

Proper fitting shoes with good foot support and non-skid soles can help with falls-prevention.

EAT A BALANCED DIET AND STAY HYDRATED

Ensure your meals contain a variety of vegetables, fruits, whole grains and a source of calcium and vitamin D to maintain healthy bones. Drink fluids often during the day – water is your best drink!

REVIEW YOUR MEDICATIONS WITH YOUR PHARMACIST

Some medications may increase your risk of falls (e.g. sleeping pills, blood pressure medications, Pain killers, anti-allergy and cough medications). Your pharmacist may make recommendations to your doctor to address side effects and the risk for falls.

KEEP YOUR HOME SAFE

Remove tripping hazards like rugs, mats and clutter from places where you normally walk. Using proper lighting, grab bars and non-slip mats in the shower can also help reduce the tripping hazard at home.

GET YOUR EYES AND EARS CHECKED REGULARLY

Age-related vision and hearing changes can affect your balance and the risk of falling. It's important to have a complete physical examination at least once a year.

HUMAN RESOURCES

Ratified Collective Agreements

Health sector employers and unions have ratified four collective agreements for the period April 1, 2019 to March 31, 2022. Those involving LBHH/WR include the Health Science Professionals (HSPBA), Nurses (NBA) and Facilities Subsector (FBA). These agreements were reached under the Government of BC's Sustainable Services Negotiating Mandate and support the priorities of improving services and ensuring sustainability. While a number of provisions in these renewed collective agreements take effect of April 1, 2019, the most significant changes will be implemented over the next three years, and will require coordination at the provincial level. If you have any questions, please contact your Manager or Human Resources.

Attendance Management

Attendance Review Meetings will take place in April with employees who's attendance record:

- exceeds the facility's annual average percentage sick leave.
- shows marked differences from their previous attendance profiles.
- is excessive in itself, or is likely to become excessive.
- indicates certain trends/patterns in the absences. For example, claiming access to sick leave benefits on days that adjoin scheduled days off or vacation.

Please note that the LBHH/WR Attendance Management Program is intended to:

- Recognize employees with good attendance.
- Promote the exchange of information between employees and Managers/Supervisors regarding attendance and absenteeism.
- Encourage employees to achieve and maintain regular attendance.
- Create a climate that promotes enthusiasm about being at work and being productive.
- Provide employees with access to services/programs (e.g.: Employee Assistance Program, Graduated Return to Work Program, Enhanced Disability Management Program and Duty to Accommodate) to facilitate regular attendance.
- Provide Managers with the skills and support to manage attendance.
- Reduce absenteeism in the interest of improving resident care, employee morale, employee health and creating cost efficiency.

LOUIS BRIER JEWISH AGED FOUNDATION

Studies have shown that the types of experiences that make people happy change as they get older. Younger people get excited by experiences. Going new places, eating new foods and getting hold of new technology make young people very happy. As we age, the pleasures of extraordinary experiences are usually replaced by a preference for day to day experiences and routines. Most older people gain a clearer understanding of the limits of time and begin to place greater value on the ordinary experiences that make up daily life. Laura Carstensen, a professor at Stanford University, points out that “older adults’ sense that time is limited alters their emotional perspective, causing them to invest in what is more meaningful to them.”

The one thing that is consistent with both younger and older people is that experiences make people happier than material possessions and sharing experiences with others generates the most pleasure. The difference between age and youth is that youth longs for excitement while age longs for peace and calm. A survey carried out by the U.S. National Council on Aging found that seniors beyond the age of seventy-eight prefer to spend their time with family. Forty-one percent of seniors in this age group said that seeing their children and grandchildren grow up was their first priority. One fifth of those surveyed ranked spending time with friends and family as the most important thing in their lives. As we age, we consistently look to close relationships for happiness. Children and grandchildren also need to understand how very important seniors are to their own continued health and well-being.

Personally, my days are full with immediate family, friends, business and exercise. I don’t sleep as well as I used to and there doesn’t seem to be enough time in the day... but oh, what I would do to see my parents and talk to them just one more time!

Too often, we are too busy or don’t prioritize the time to bring simple peace and calm into our lives. The peace and calm that seniors crave as they age is also very important to us in our always too busy existence. Spending time with seniors has a reciprocal benefit; we slow down and try to understand what seniors cherish and then we realize that we cherish the same things.

Time is fleeting and as my father used to say “we get too soon old and too late smart.” Find some time in your busy life to visit us or volunteer at the Louis Brier. Put some peace and calm back into your routine by getting to know a community elder. But above all, visit your parents and grandparents wherever they are and as often as possible.

Document Manager

Go paperless and give your team more time to spend with residents by improving efficiency, accuracy and standardization of documents across your organization.

Available in Canada

Heather Fritz
PointClickCare Customer

PointClickCare's Document Manager helps create, personalize and update admission, discharge and routine documentation with the click of a button, at the state, region, or line of business for long term care organizations.

We will be launching the Point Click Care's Document Manager on April 2019 to improve efficiency, accuracy and standardization of documents across the organization. This is a multi-phased project. We will start with the admission process for both Louis Brier and Weinberg Residence.

Document Manager is an efficient tool for creating and electronically executing groups of documents required for residents. By capturing and auto-populating resident information directly from the electronic health record, it helps streamline the management of documentation and ensures accuracy. Documents can be tracked from a resident's chart with status indicators for pending, overdue, or missing documents, and stored with the resident's profile so they are always easily accessible.

The goals of the project are the following:

1. Reduce Administrative Burden by automating routine resident documentation, leaving more time for staff to focus on the quality of care they are providing.
2. Increase Efficiency by drastically reducing time spent on document creation, maintenance and population by using standardized templates.
3. Improve Accuracy by eliminating admission documentation errors that result from manually completing forms by pre-populating electronic forms
4. Enhance User Experience by providing better oversight of current documentation across the organization, ensuring compliance and standardization of required documentation.

We are happy to assist you if you need further information &/or if you have any ideas, feedbacks, concerns.
