A MESSAGE FROM DR. DAVID KESELMAN, CEO

Hello everyone,

Monday May 6th marked the start of the 2018 National Nurses Week. May 12th was chosen to celebrate the day as it is the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, who is widely considered the founder of modern nursing. In our complicated, demanding, and ever-changing health care system, Nurses continue to position themselves as leaders in the provision of health care through innovative, holistic health care and continued growth. For decades nurses have provided competent, safe and ethical care to people in communities across the country and throughout the world.

Nurses continue to demonstrate the values of respect, courage, responsiveness and innovation, along with a dedication to quality care that is second to none. Social, political, economic, community, and health care needs have all blended together to create multi-faceted situations that nurses must be able to properly manage. Today's care plans can be very involved, and include such things as wound care, intravenous therapy, life and death, and treatments for chronic and terminal illnesses.

This year as well, The Canadian Nurses Association has chosen 'Nurses: A Voice To Lead' as the theme to celebrate and acknowledge nurses' work and nurses' week. With certainty, today's nurses require a wide variety of skills to assess, plan, report, collaborate, treat, comfort, and ultimately, to heal. Every day, nurses across Canada improve lives by providing care, leading research, applying technological innovation, and much more. Nurses are also the chief advocates for change in our health care system.

In recognition of their dedication and contributions to Canada's health care system, on behalf of the Senior Leadership Team, the Board of Directors, the Louis Brier Foundation and I, would like to extend our sincere thanks to the nurses and the entire health care team, throughout the Snider Campus for their dedication and caring for our residents and their families and nurses everywhere for all that they do.

I encourage everyone to take a moment and acknowledge the nurses around you and to say thank you for the important and great work they do.

Thank you,
Dr. David Keselman, CEO

Florence Nightingale (1820-1910) was an English social reformer and statistician, and the founder of modern nursing.

SHAVUOT 2019

Begins: Sunday, May 9th
Ends: Monday June 10th at 10:09pm

Shavuot (which is the Hebrew word for “Weeks”, from the root word for seven – sheva) has both religious and seasonal significance. Shavuot is called the “Feast of Weeks” and stands for the seven weeks during with the Israelites rid themselves of the scars of bondage, and became a holy nation ready to stand before Hashem (G-d).

- ✧ Shavuot is a high holy day, and therefore all the laws of Shabbat are observed. (Please refer to the Guidelines for Yom Tov/holy days.)
- ✧ Shavuot marks the time of the giving of the Torah (Five Books of Moses) on Mount Sinai to the Jewish people, and also marks the beginning of the Israeli spring harvest. These two themes are woven together throughout the holiday.
- ✧ Customs associated with this holiday include the eating of dairy foods and honey- as a reminder that the words of the Torah are as pleasant to the ears as milk and honey are to the tongue. The tradition is to eat a festive dairy meal before the main meal on the first day of Shavuot. At the LB this means cheesecake!
- ✧ Homes and synagogues are often decorated with flowers and green branches as a reminder that on Shavuot the world is judged through the fruit of the trees, in hopes that the harvest is plentiful.
- ✧ Baskets of fruit and flowers are traditionally given as gifts.

Other customs include:

It is customary to stay up all night learning Torah on the first night of Shavuot. Many families attend synagogue on the first day of Shavuot to hear the reading of the Ten Commandments. On the second day of Shavuot, the Yizkor memorial prayers are recited. Some communities publicly read the Book of Ruth, a touching story of love and devotion, whose passing occurred on this day.

If you have any questions about Shavuot, please don't hesitate to contact the Recreation department, we would be happy to assist you in your understanding of the holiday.

SOCIAL WORK IN LONG-TERM CARE

Social work has a long history of playing a significant role in the provision of care for persons in long-term care (primarily, however not exclusively, for the elderly within personal care homes, chronic care facilities, and rehabilitation centres). Social workers practice collaboratively with various professionals within a health care setting.

In most regions, health care facilities employ social workers with a minimum Bachelor of Social Work degree. Most social workers participate in ongoing professional development to enhance their knowledge and skill base. The primary mandate of social workers within long-term care is to advocate on behalf of residents and their families. Their focus is on the social and emotional impact of physical and mental impairment, preservation and enhancement of physical and social functioning, and promotion of physical and mental health towards and optimal quality of life. Emphasis is on building upon existing strengths, enhancing adaptations, and modifying risks that interfere with optimal quality of life.

Social workers play a key role by:

- Responding to inquiries and providing education to persons in the community regarding the current health care system as well as assisting clients in navigating services;
- Providing psychosocial expertise in aspects of care (for example, in helping staff and resident alike to deal with the difficult issues of dying and death as well as emotions such as guilt, anger, and fear);
- Supporting, developing, or implementing innovative programs;
- Enhancing residents' care, including promoting holistic approaches, maintaining therapeutic relationships with residents and families and providing specialized individual and family counseling, engaging in resident advocacy, family support groups, family councils, and resident councils, and co-ordinating with other community services;
- Promoting a positive atmosphere and attitudes and playing a leadership role in counteracting stereotyping, stigmatization, and discrimination;
- Sharing responsibility for educating residents, families, and staff colleagues and for challenging the status quo when advocating on behalf of residents.

Social work services provided during the various phases of residency – pre-admission, admission, residency, and discharge, transfer, or death – are essential to the well-being of residents in long-term care and their families.

Pre-Admission Phase

The social worker is often the first contact a resident or family will have with the facility. The prospective resident and family members are beginning the difficult task of dealing with their feelings about long-term care placement. The social worker provides a tour and information about the facility, assesses the resident's needs, and begins to establish relationships with the resident and family members that will evolve over the course of admission through to discharge.

Admission Phase

Helping the resident and family members become familiar with the facility and its resources is essential to their future adjustment and well-being. The social worker co-ordinates the admission process for all new residents, acting as a liaison between the resident/family and any involved community agency. During the post-admission period, many residents and family members need adjustment counseling. Intensive social work intervention may be required at this stage:

- Providing support (counseling, mediation, advocacy) to a resident and family members who are struggling with placement;
- Helping families redefine their role and relationship;
- Completing social history and psychosocial assessment;
- Providing education to residents and family members regarding advance care directives and health care decision making;
- Assisting in mediation and conflict resolution as issues arise;
- Facilitating and ensuring participation of the resident and the family in the initial care conference and in care planning.

Residency Phase (ongoing care)

The social worker's role in working with residents and their families during this phase is to facilitate the resident's comfort within the new environment as he or she strives to retain identity and maintain autonomy:

- Advocating planning centred on residents and their families;
- Working with the client and the team pro-actively to solve interpersonal or behavioral issues a resident may be experiencing;
- Locating and arranging resources, utilizing the social worker's ability to understand how systems interact and what resources are available for the resident;
- Mediating concerns that may arise between the resident and family or team.
- As a multidisciplinary team member, participating in ongoing care planning, involving the resident and family as much as possible.

Discharge/Transfer/Death

The social worker facilitates the resident's return to the community or transfer to another facility where applicable. The resident and family members may also require grief counseling during the final stages of life or at death.

It is important to celebrate together and recognize dedication and a commitment to excellence!

All employees who have passed a milestones in their years of service will be recognized with a certificate and a LBHH or WR commemorative pin. Milestones include 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35 and 40 years of service. We encourage everyone to wear their pins to demonstrate their long service and last milestone!

2019 Satisfaction Surveys

Thank you to everyone who participated in the Employee, Resident and Family Satisfaction Surveys in May!!! Satisfaction Surveys are developed to assess our strengths and weaknesses and to identify areas for improvement. Once the Employee Worklife Pulse Survey results have been analyzed we will report back on the overall findings and action plan. We appreciate your time and feedback!

Locker Clean Up and Ownership

LBHH/WR conducted a long overdue locker clean-up! This initiative was coordinated through Building Services and Housekeeping and was intended to thoroughly clean the lockers and make more lockers available to employees. We would like to thank everyone that cleaned out their locker and removed their belongings as well as all of the employees involved in the actual locker clean-up.

Please be aware that lockers are indented to be used during working shift only and not owned by employees. Locks and belonging should be removed after each shift. This is to ensure that a locker is available to all employees coming on shift.

Human Resources Changes

In an effort to provide more effective and efficient Human Resources services the HR Department underwent a review and it was decided that a number of changes needed to be made. These changes include the following:

- Human Resources Drop-in Office Hours are from Monday to Friday, 2PM to 4PM.
- Meetings with Human Resources CAN be scheduled outside of the Drop-in Office Hours.
- All Human Resources general inquiries and requests must be made via HR@louisbrier.com
- Most Human Resources general inquiries and requests should start with the HR Coordinator (Tracey), followed by the Manager, HR (Sonia).
- All Human Resources documentation and forms (ie. Sick Leave Forms, Job Posting Applications, etc.) must be submitted through a confidential HR Lock Box located outside of the HR Offices.
- Human Resources personnel will be hosting a monthly "Coffee/Tea with HR" on the last Tuesday of every month from 11-12 in the staff lounge. Your participation is encouraged!

Please remember the HR Department is here for YOU. These changes should not prevent you from obtaining support from us. Rather we will be able to offer our services to you in a more structured and constructive way.

LOUIS BRIER JEWISH AGED FOUNDATION

Foundation Welcomes New Executive Director

As a newcomer to the Snider Campus and the Louis Brier Jewish Aged Foundation, I have been so very pleased to meet the Home and Weinberg staff, caregivers, volunteers and, of course, residents. The Snider Campus is a vibrant, caring community, committed to meeting the needs of its residents by providing excellent care and support services.

The Province of BC provides basic funding to support this care, but these dollars are stretched thin. That's where the Louis Brier Jewish Aged Foundation comes in. The Foundation – its Board and dedicated community of donors – provides essential funding that enhances the lives of the Home's residents in a traditional Jewish environment.

In the short period that I have been here, I am inspired and very motivated to support the Foundation's mission of outreach. Together with our small but dedicated Foundation staff team, we will endeavor to share successes, stories and the latest news from the Foundation.

I look forward to meeting and working with you.

HIGH TOUCH SURFACES

High touch surfaces can be described as those areas that come in regular and frequent contact usually with hands of individuals found within the facility – this can include staff members, residents and the public. Most microorganisms are spread through human touch (approximately 80%) and can survive for long periods of time on surfaces so regular cleaning of areas is essential in controlling the spread of infectious disease within the facility. Housekeeping plays a big role in preventing the spread of germs. It is the job of the housekeeping staff to be aware of these areas and ensure they are properly cleaned and disinfected. Dedication and attention to detail are key elements for this to be successful with high touch surfaces being cleaned on a daily basis. The frequency may increase depending on what area of the facility is being cleaned and if a potential outbreak is in place.

Did you know? These surfaces collect the following germs per square inch.

Telephone: 25,127 microbes

Desk top: 21,000 microbes

Computer Mouse: 1,676 microbes

Keyboards: 3,295 microbes

Toilet Seat: 49 microbes

Quick Tip

80% of infections are spread directly or indirectly through contact with hands or with objects that have been touched and contaminated by hands.

COPD AWARENESS

WHAT IS COPD?

COPD means Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease. COPD is the name for two breathing diseases (chronic bronchitis and emphysema) that cause airways to become “obstructed” or blocked.

Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD)

HOW DO I KNOW IF I HAVE COPD?

If you are over 40 and smoke or used to smoke, you may have COPD. Some non-smokers may also get COPD.

TAKE THIS 30-SECOND LUNG HEALTH QUIZ TO SCREEN SYMPTOMS OF COPD

- Do you cough regularly?
- Do you cough up phlegm regularly?
- Do even simple chores make you short of breath?
- Do you wheeze when you exert yourself (exercise, go up the stairs)?
- Do you get many colds and does it usually last longer than your friends' colds?

If you answered “Yes” to one or more of these questions, you may have symptoms of COPD. See your doctor to find out what is causing your symptoms.

Note: This test is for information purposes only. It should not replace a complete medical examination by a doctor. If you think you may have COPD or are worried about your health, please see your doctor.

I HAVE BEEN DIAGNOSED WITH COPD, HOW CAN I MANAGE MY SYMPTOMS?

COPD can't be cured, but it can be treated.

Consider quitting or avoiding smoking.

Take your COPD medications.

Stay active. Consult your physician for exercises that would be safe for you.

Stay protected and get the Influenza and Pneumonia vaccines.

REDUCE THE RISK OF DEMENTIA

People can reduce their risk of dementia

by getting regular exercise, not smoking, avoiding harmful use of alcohol, controlling their weight, eating a healthy diet, and maintaining healthy blood pressure, cholesterol and blood sugar levels, according to new guidelines issued by the World Health Organization (WHO).

“In the next 30 years, the number of people with dementia is expected to triple,” said WHO Director-General Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus. “We need to do everything we can to reduce our risk of dementia. The scientific evidence gathered for these Guidelines confirm what we have suspected for some time, that what is good for our heart, is also good for our brain.” The Guidelines provide the knowledge base for health-care providers to advise patients on what they can do to help prevent cognitive decline and dementia. They will also be useful for governments, policy-makers and planning authorities to guide them in developing policy and designing programs that encourage healthy lifestyles. The reduction of risk factors for dementia is one of several areas of action included in WHO’s Global action plan for the public health response to dementia. Other areas include: strengthening information systems for dementia; diagnosis, treatment and care; supporting carers of people with dementia; and research and innovation.
